

CLSI's Lab Week Crossword Puzzle

Across

5. Rose gardener's disease.
8. Also known as 'Snail Fever,' this disease is caused by parasitic flatworms.
11. Bacterial illness that causes diarrhea--usually transmitted by infected meat, eggs, or milk.
12. A fancy word for toenail fungus.
13. Gram-positive bacteria that appears as grape-like clusters under the microscope (plural).
14. Gram-positive cocci, these bacteria are sometimes responsible for causing pharyngitis, flesh eating disease, and meningitis (plural).
22. A food-borne parasitic infection caused by the lung fluke.

Down

1. Classic symptoms of this bacterial infection are cough and bloody sputum.
2. This species causes Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.
3. A sexually transmitted disease with three stages.
4. This species can cause infection in someone who eats raw or undercooked shellfish
6. Influenza is part of this family of viruses.
7. A lung infection that can be bacterial or viral.
9. Also known as 'Hansen's Disease,' sufferers of this condition have been stigmatized throughout history.
10. Coccidioidomycosis is a fungal disease that's also known as _____ Disease.
15. Caused by the Yersinia pestis bacterium, this disease killed an estimated 50 million people in the 14th century.
16. A novel by Nobel Prize winning Colombian author Gabriel Garcia Márquez, 'Love in the Time of _____.'
17. A disease caused by ingesting roundworm cysts in undercooked pork, bear, or dog meat.
18. Disease caused by infection with beef and pork tapeworms.
19. Zoonotic helminthic infection that's a rare cause of blindness.
20. Also known as 'Beaver Fever,' one of the most common parasitic diseases worldwide, caused by drinking contaminated water.
21. Pigment producing gram-negative bacillus that usually does not cause disease in healthy people. Common infections from these bacteria are UTI, swimmer's ear, and pneumonia.
23. 'Blood poisoning.'